

Alison Morton's Reader Survey

Q8 Comments Newsletter contents

I think Roman facts/news are rather well covered on the internet and it becomes a little repetitive. Same applies to other timeframes when authors begin repeating those same facts.

Sorry don't need any more emails in my inbox

I would want it to be interesting, preferably with a tie in to the author's genre, but not explicitly promotional

Reviews

New work coming up, background or reearch for books - not that interested in the author.

I don't read them

When the next book will be published

Where the authors get their ideas and what their favorite online research tools are.

Really not interested....

I tend to read blogs more than newsletters.

I wouldn't, as life is too short - I can't get my head around all the professional newsletters I have to read.

not keen on author newsletters
